

Are You

Online?

With the One You Love!

Part 1

Have you thought about this? ...

How much time do we usually spend everyday on our smart phones and social media?

How about the big amount of time that some people take for leisure and entertainment using PCs, watching TV, films, sports, and video clips, listening to music and radio, surfing the Internet, or using the other many electronic devices, platforms, social media, applications, or games?

And how about those who spend a great deal of time on practicing sports and hobbies, working on their physical fitness, reading books, novels, newspapers, and magazines for many hours?

In Contrast, what is the amount of time that we spend in connection 'online' with and for our Creator, Allah the Almighty (Subhanahu Wa Ta'ala)?

Actually, Islam teaches us to be considerate, moderate, and balanced in how we manage our lives and our time.

Furthermore, Islam instructs us to pay attention to three main duties, rights, and responsibilities:

- 1- Our duty and responsibility towards Allah (God), our Creator?
- 2- Our duty and responsibility towards ourselves.
- 3- Our duty and responsibility towards others.

Concerning our duty towards Allah (Subhanahu Wa Ta'ala), let us ask ourselves (each one of us should sincerely ask these questions):

- How is my relationship with my Creator, Allah the Almighty?
- Do I truly and practically love Allah, the One True God?
- Do I worship Allah (God) and pray to Him as He loves and as Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) told us?
- How much time do I spend for Allah and serving his religion?
- Do I remember Allah (Glory be to Him) & supplicate to Him frequently?
- Am I punctual on reading (reciting) His Book, the Glorious Qur'an (at least a page a day)?
- Am I trying my best to do what pleases Allah, Who created me and granted me endless favours, bounties, and blessings?

To sum up, Allah wants us to go back to Him and get connected with Him through...

- Worshipping Allah solely,
- Praying to Him regularly,
- Remembering Him constantly,
- Reading the Qur'an continuously,
- Supplicating (making du'a) to Him faithfully,
- Doing good deeds and inviting others to do good nicely, and
- Repenting to Him and seeking His forgiveness earnestly.

When we do that, Allah (Subhanahu Wa Ta'ala) will be pleased with us and grant us contentment and peace of mind in this life and eternal happiness and Paradise (Jannah) in the Hereafter.
